ADVISORY OPINION 2008-19

Pike Powers, Treasurer
Texans for Lamar Smith
1005 Congress, Suite 910
Austin, TX 78701

Dear Mr. Powers:

We are responding to your advisory opinion request on behalf of Texans for Lamar Smith (“the Committee”), concerning the application of the Federal Election Campaign Act of 1971, as amended (“the Act”), and Commission regulations to a candidate’s principal campaign committee’s employment of a person who also serves as the treasurer of a leadership PAC sponsored by the candidate. The Commission concludes that such an arrangement is permissible, as neither the Act nor any Commission regulation prohibits it.

Background

The facts presented in this advisory opinion are based on your letter received on October 9, 2008, an e-mail received from Campaign Financial Services on your behalf on December 8, 2008, and telephone conversations with Commission attorneys.

The Committee is the principal campaign committee for Congressman Lamar Smith, who is a United States Representative from the State of Texas. The Committee employs an individual, Ms. O’Lene Stone, as its office manager; she collects the mail, supervises volunteers, acts as an occasional contact point for fundraising firms, and generally manages the day-to-day administration of the Committee’s office. Ms. Stone is not involved in any fundraising or in preparing or filing any Commission reports for the Committee.

Ms. Stone also serves as treasurer of the Longhorn Political Action Committee (“Longhorn PAC”), a leadership PAC sponsored by Congressman Smith. Although Ms. Stone signs Commission reports for the Longhorn PAC, she does not prepare them. She has final approval on all disbursements, but she does not sign checks or make deposits. An outside compliance firm, Campaign Financial Services, performs all these tasks, and Ms. Stone and the Longhorn PAC rely on this firm in matters of Commission compliance.

Ms. Stone maintains complete separation between her two roles. As she is a paid staff member of the Committee, she performs all treasurer duties for the Longhorn PAC on her own time, outside of her paid hours of employment for the Committee. No Longhorn PAC resources or funds are used in the performance of Ms. Stone’s Committee duties, and no Committee resources or funds are used in the performance of her Longhorn PAC duties.

Question Presented

Does the Act or any Commission regulation prohibit an individual’s simultaneously serving both as an employee of a candidate’s principal campaign committee and as the treasurer of a leadership PAC sponsored by the candidate?

Legal Analysis and Conclusions

No, neither the Act nor any Commission regulation prohibits an individual from serving as an employee of a principal campaign committee and as the treasurer of a leadership PAC sponsored by the candidate at the same time. Therefore Ms. Stone may continue to serve as the treasurer of the Longhorn PAC while she is employed by the Committee.<sup>1</sup>
